

SMALL-SCALE LIVESTOCK WORKSHOP

OCTOBER 15, 2011

Overview

Beginner and experienced small-scale livestock owners are invited. Valuable hands-on presentations will focus on health, production, nutrition, housing, and know-how. In-depth discussions will build on pre-recorded introductory webinars which participants are encouraged to watch prior to the workshop. Bring your questions!

8:00—8:30 am	Registration
8:30—9:00 am	Animal Health Network Ragan Adams, CSU Veterinary Extension
9:00—11:00 am	A. Chickens Kristy Pabilonia, CSU Professor & Sarah Millonig, CSU Research Associate
	Concurrent Sessions
	B. Beef and Dairy Cattle Jason Ahola & Noa Roman-Muniz, CSU Animal Science Professors
11:00—12:00	LUNCH
12:00—2:00 pm	A. Goats and Sheep Nancy Irlbeck, Associate Dean of Academic Affairs for College of Agricultural Sciences at CSU
	Concurrent Sessions
	B. Pigs Marlin Eisenach, Morgan County Extension Livestock Specialist
2:00—2:15 pm	BREAK
2:15—4:15 pm	A. Llamas and Alpacas Pat Alger, alpaca and llama owner
	Concurrent Sessions
	B. Pasture and Manure Management Jennifer Cook, Small Acreage Management Coordinator

Registration

Register online at www.ext.colostate.edu/sam/livestock
$25 per person includes lunch, snacks,
and expert information

Prerequisite

Participants should watch introductory livestock webinars prior to the workshop. Webinars are available at www.ext.colostate.edu/sam/livestock

Location

Clover Building at Boulder County
Fairgrounds
9595 Nelson Road
Longmont, CO 80501

Questions

Contact Jennifer Cook
303-659-7004 ext. 3
Jennifer.cook@colostate.edu

Colorado State University and Natural Resources Conservation Service cooperating. Programs are available to all without discrimination. If you need special accommodation(s) to participate in the event listed, please contact Jennifer Cook at 303-659-7004 ext.3. Your request must be submitted at least 5 days in advance of event.