

Colorado Ag Water Alliance

"Committed to the preservation of agriculture through the wise use of Colorado's water resources"

What ways can we preserve groundwater and farming for the future?

The Colorado Ag Water Alliance (CAWA) and Republican River Water Conservation District are bringing together producers from different parts of the West to discuss their experience with groundwater conservation and efficiency. With more stress on water supplies, it's our job to continue being responsible stewards of Colorado's most valuable resource

Speakers Include:

Steve Walthour, North Plains Groundwater Conservation District
Ray Luhman, Kansas Groundwater Management District
John Berge, North Platte Natural Resources District,
Chad Godsey, Godsey Precision Ag
Corey Gilbert, On Target Ag Solutions
Keith Houin, Farm Credit of Southern Colorado
Jerry Lebsack, Premier Farm Credit
