

A Lasting Legacy

A Workshop for Farm and Ranch Families

It was a beautiful afternoon in late spring when Bob clutched his hands to his chest and collapsed in the field. He was dead within minutes. No warning. No chance of survival.

His wife and five children were left in utter disbelief. Bob and his family always had intentions to clarify his legacy plans. Now he is gone. His children will not have the opportunity to share his stories, faith, hopes and life experiences. There were no instructions for burial or memorial services.

They don't know to whom he wanted to give his collections of toy cars and silver spurs.

Could Bob's family have done things differently?

How do you pass on the legacy that was your life?

Can you help your family carry on after you are no longer with them?

Leaving a legacy that everyone can love depends on parents and their adult children being able to bridge the communication gap. It's hard to talk about death and what will happen after a loved one dies, but planning for the passing of a lasting legacy from one generation to the next gives families the opportunity to share their most important beliefs, wishes and lessons learned throughout a lifetime.

In this workshop you will learn about

- ✓ Sharing your values and life lessons with future generations.
- ✓ Gifting your personal possessions having emotional value.
- ✓ Planning for important end-of-life issues.
- ✓ Transferring your finances and real estate.

The workshops are sponsored by:

Colorado State University Extension, Western Sustainable Agriculture Research and Education, Rocky Mountain Farmers Union, Colorado Fruit and Vegetable Growers Association, First National Bank, McClave State Bank, Montezuma County Farm Bureau, and many others.

*Please join us for these interactive, fun, and educational workshops.
Past participants found the information invaluable as their families discussed individual legacies and the futures of their farms and ranches.*
